Editor's Note:

Just when we thought we might be out of the woods, another sharp reminder of how difficult Covid 19 is to overcome. At least in level 2 we have been able to continue classes, albeit mostly one-on-one type tuition. Term 3 ends on September 11 and Term 4 will start on October 5. However you can still access tuition over the holidays by phoning Martin on 8394179. Classes in Term 4 will be for a maximum of 2 students.

Surplus to Requirements: As a result of decreasing our footprint in the Learning Centre, the club has 2 computer desks, both on castors, available to members for a small ($10) donation. There is another plain desk with a fold up extension of its desk top. Perhaps some of you may have grandchildren who might appreciate one of these for home study. We also have a surplus of three chairs from the learning Centre- black metal frames with dark red upholstered seats and backs. These were bought in 2006 for $60 each and are still in very good condition. They are available for $5. There is also a pedestal electric fan.

Also: We have some ink cartridges for a Brother inkjet printer, model MFC210C available for a small donation. The number on the box is DE-B09/41/47/900/950. Black and the 3 colours. These can be used with a number of Brother inkjet printers. If you're interested, either phone SeniorNet 8235136 and leave a message or contact Muriel on 8296190.

If anyone is interested in any of these items, please contact Muriel.

Reusable masks

SeniorNet has masks available for a gold coin donation. You can pick up one of these on a Monday afternoon between 1.00 pm and 2.30 pm or phone the rooms 823 5136 to have one put aside for you.

New Members: A special welcome to new members, Sue Donovan and Raewyn Wahanui.

Please Note: There will be no Social Meeting for September due to Covid restrictions.

A better-than average blonde joke:

A guy goes into a bar at 9.58 . He sits next to a blonde and stares up at the TV where the 10 pm news is just starting. The news crew is covering a story showing a man on the ledge of a high building, preparing to jump. The blonde turns to her neighbour and says "do you think he'll jump?" The guy says "yes. I bet he will". "I bet he won't" says the blonde. The guy puts $30 on the bar and says "you're on". Just as the blonde puts her $30 on the bar, the man on TV does a swan dive off the building to his demise. The blonde is quite upset and passes her money to the guy, saying "fair's fair. Here's your money". The guy says "I can't take your money. I saw this earlier on the 5 o'clock news. I knew he would jump" The blonde replies "I did too but I never thought he'd do it again". The guy took the money!!
